

Portfolio Requirement
International Students Admissions
@
Symbiosis Institute of Design (SID)

Why?

The curriculum at SID expects the learners to have inclination towards visual language of representation & communication, observational, perceptual and reasoning abilities as necessity from the beginning. One must have an aptitude towards visualization and representation of ideas visually as well as creative problem solving abilities.

It is suggested to have a portfolio review especially for International students in order to give us an idea of their strengths to judge them better and also to give an introduction to the students about the kind of activities they would be expected to take up during the course.

How?

We will have a format of expected portfolio to be developed by the student. It will be in form of a practical task.

1. Task:

- Sketch two different drawings of your Drawing room showing various objects present in the room from two different vantage points. You are expected to think of creative point of views also. The complete drawing should show the correct depiction of the room and the things in the room from that point of view. Create two separate drawings showing your observation from each vantage point. It is mandatory to have one object from the ceiling/high on the wall, one object from the ground, one object on the wall.
- Add shading to enhance the depth if necessary. Clarity of observation & representation through the drawing/s is the main evaluation criteria.
- Write two differences observed by you upon changing the vantage point.
- Scan both the drawings to high resolution (minimum at 300dpi) and upload it.
